

WS Opie Street Growth Fund

Fund Commentary

During the second quarter of the year, global equity markets continued to perform strongly, with companies deemed beneficiaries of the artificial intelligence (AI) theme remaining key drivers. Despite lagging overseas markets in recent years, the FTSE 100 set a record high in May, whilst the more domestically focused FTSE 250 also delivered strong returns, boosted by news of a rebound in UK GDP, which grew by 0.3% during the first quarter of the year (compared to Q1 2023).

Labour's widely anticipated landslide victory (in terms of seats, if not votes) has had little impact on financial markets. The party's stated policies appear moderate, in part given the already stretched nature of the public purse, whilst the business community, on the whole, appears relatively supportive of the new regime. With the US leadership election in disarray, and with strengthening 'far right' movements in parts of mainland Europe, the UK political backdrop offers a degree of new-found stability, though the coming weeks will be crucial to better understanding future policy.

The European Central Bank cut interest rates in the period, whilst the Federal Reserve and Bank of England kept rates on hold. The timing and scale of interest cuts will remain a key focus for investors over the coming weeks. Hopes of the magical 'soft landing' (whereby inflation falls back to target, and economic growth remains positive) remain intact, especially in the US where strong labour markets continue to support consumer demand (which remains a key pillar of economic strength).

Whilst the fund benefits from an exposure to the US tech giants (through holdings such as the Heriot Global Fund), we continue to take a balanced approach to positioning within global equities, cognisant of the risks associated with the almost unprecedented level of concentration in equity markets currently. Whilst this slightly more conservative, better diversified approach has held back returns in recent months, we continue to believe that this prudence will pay off in the longer term.

The fund's holdings in alternative assets (e.g. private equity) enjoyed a stronger quarter, albeit recovering from earlier weakness as opposed to progressing to fresh highs. Following our ongoing engagement with investment company Boards, we have been encouraged by the positive changes implemented, especially relating to policies around share buybacks (the process of a company re-purchasing their own shares at a material discount to the underlying asset value).

Fund Objective & Policy

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide long-term (5 – 10 years) growth through a combination of capital and income, with an emphasis on capital.

The fund adopts a global investment approach, unconstrained by a formal benchmark, with a diversified exposure to a range of asset classes including equities (both UK and global), fixed interest (corporate bonds), alternatives (including infrastructure, real estate and private equity) and cash.

Typically at least 75% of the fund will be exposed to equities.

Investment Approach

The Fund's exposure is primarily achieved by investing in collective investments (including investment trusts, OEICs and ETFs).

The blend of active and passive strategies seeks to maximise returns, whilst minimising costs.

The funds are invested on a long-term basis, with low expected portfolio turnover.

Strategic asset allocation is a core focus given the associated contribution to long term investment returns, whilst helping to mitigate risk. Tactical asset allocation will enable flexibility to adjust to changing market conditions.
